Preparation and Visual Supports in Community

Preparation Story

Today I am going to Barnes and Noble.

I can go to Barnes and Noble 2nd section and look at books. I can sit on the floor or sit on the benches and read a book about animals, or Star Wars or princesses. Kathy will set the timer for 15 minutes.

Then I can choose ONE book to buy. I need to select a book that cost $10.00 or less. Once I choose a book then I will go to the cashier and pay.

If I do not have the exact number of dollars and change, I can round up to the next dollar or to the next five dollars.

I will have an AMAZING time at Barnes and Noble!

Restructure or Teach New Skills and/or Strategies in Classroom...

- What new skills might we need to teach Marley?
- Concept of unexpected
- Stress reduction routine

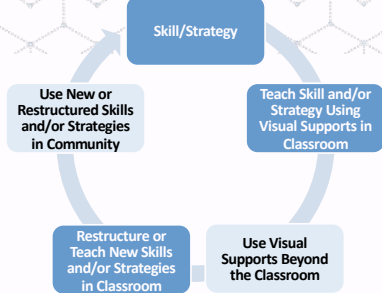

Shopping can be a fun. People usually have an idea of things they want to buy when they go to the store. Sometimes, they get to the store and item they want are gone! Unavailable items on shopping trip are UNEXPECTED EVENTS. Sometimes when I go shopping the store will not have the item I want. That is an UNEXPECTED EVENT. I will be disappointed, but I can choose something else.

Activity

- Partner with someone around you who is teaching a different age group:
 - Discuss opportunities for teaching generalization to Kylie using the skill of counting (left side) or color matching (right side). How could Kylie use these skills in different environments and with different materials?
 - List different possibilities on sticky notes and add these to the Generalization chart.
